Bringing a Greater Joy to Life

NSIDE the door lies the deepest, purest joy of life. It is the joy of music. To millions that door has been locked. They have been barred out, not by a lack of music feelingfor that is instinctive to everyone-simply by a lack of music's mechanics-of mere note knowledge.

That door of music was opened at the coming of the Pianola. The scaffolding of music, the notes themselves, it supplies. But it can almost immediately make of you-of evervone-a true musician, because it enables you to press your own music feeling into the instrument with exactly the spirit of a great

The only difference is that he has learned through painful years these same mechanics of the piano-the same mechanics which the Pianola, at a step, has given to you.

What does it mean to the average person to be suddenly endowed with a perfect pianotechnique, accompanied with the power to exercise that joyous "creation-feeling" which all skilled or instinctive musicians have?

It means for him, for you, a new and almost incredible source of joy. It means that the greatest masters of music beauty can be brought as intimately close to you as is Dickens or Balzac-the great masters of the

And the Pianola for your child?

It means the development of a deep, true love and understanding of music that simple piano lessons alone could never perhaps develop. For scales develop only the mechanical ability-never the full abiding delight in the intelligent understanding of music.

That understanding-the very living soul of music-the Pianola will surely bring to your child. It wil! teach her to interpret music for herself—to love music—to take an infinitely greater interest in learning to play herself, by hand.

 $\Pi\Pi$

How is it that an instrument can, with automatic perfection, produce the note-structure of any music for you and yet allow you with infinite delicacy to put your own music-feeling into it-just as the great musicians do?

How?

Through a series of inventions which make it possible to weave through the notes themselves the moving beauties of emotion, of intensest human feeling-the life-force behind music. These inventions it is that set the Pianola far beyond the merely correctly mechanical but humanly unresponsive "player-piano".

They mean that in tempo and tonal variation the Pianola can easily, simply, respond to your every mood; that you can instinctively express that mood, and through any music-popular or classical, grave or gay.

So you can literally press beauty into music which, without these wonderful inventions, has been mere notes-soulless, unemotional, unmoving.

The Automatic Sustaining Pedal The Themodist The Metrostyle

So, one by one, problems quite unattainble by the "player-piano" are met by the Pianola. The dulled melody is brought out. The over-insistent bass is regulated. The dead monotony of tempo is banished. The "feelinglessness" is gone. At a step you enter into the wonderful heritage of musical self-expression through music's most beautiful and comprehensive instrument, the piano. At a step you feel the power to regulate melody just as the great pianists do, who simply do so because they possess the "music mechanics" which the Pianola supplies even more effectively to you.

We want you to hear and know the Pianola—the real Pianola that towers musically so far above the so called "player-pianos" its great success has brought upon the market. So we invite you to visit Aeolian Hall. One of our demonstrators will play for you any selections you may wish to hear. Or play the Pianola yourself-experience the joy of re-creating music. You will be most welcome any time.
